Seminole Agencies Partner for Opioid Crisis PSA

Seminole County (June 13, 2018)—Sheriff Dennis Lemma is among law enforcement, public health, and education leaders featured in a new public service announcement on the opioid crisis in Seminole County and the holistic approach being taken to fight it.

On the front lines, Seminole County deputies are now all equipped with Narcan, the opioid inhibitor which has proven successful in saving the lives of dozens of overdose victims.

The Florida Department of Health, Seminole County produced this comprehensive video exploring the contributing factors to this ongoing public health challenge. You can access a link to the video here.
